The new measure proposed by the Board of Managers, to have a Finance Committee of two ladies and two gentlemen to secure pledged subscriptions towards meeting the appropriations of the year, was then fully discussed, and meeting the approbation of the Society, the following persons were unanimously elected: G. P. Castle, F. J. Lowrey, Mrs. L. F. Dickson and Miss Maria Forbes.

President Damon said that, although the time was getting late, yet there were several present from whom he thought we ought to hear a few words. Thereupon he asked Captain Bray, late Master of the Morning Star, who expects to leave shortly for Oakland, to make a few remarks. After his remarks the suggestion was made that it would be a good plan for Captain Bray to start a Branch Cousins Society in Oakland among the colony of Hawaiian Islanders now resident there. The President asked for a few remarks also from Captain Turner, the present Master of the Morning Star, Rev. A. W. Burt, the newly arrived Principal of the Hilo Boys' Boarding School, who is to take Mr. W. B. Oleson's place, and Mr. Edward L. Gulick, son of Rev. L. H. Gulick.

The collection amounted to $25 70.

The Society adjourned, to meet for the adjourned annual meeting at a time and place arranged by the Board of Managers.

Respectfully submitted, W. J. FORBES,
Recording Secretary.

MINUTES OF THE ADJOURNED ANNUAL MEETING, HELD IN THE Y. M. C. A. HALL, JUNE 12, 1886.

The meeting was opened with singing, followed by a prayer from Rev. Mr. Parker, an evangelist who had arrived that day by the steamer on his way to Australia.

President W. C. Merritt in the chair.

The minutes of the annual meeting* were read and approved.

The reports of the Recording Secretary, Treasurer, Corresponding Secretary and Home Corresponding Secretary were read in the order above mentioned, each separately approved and ordered to be printed in the annual report.

The annual address was then delivered by the retiring President, Mr. F. W. Damon, the subject of which was, "A Worthy Monument to Our Missionary Fathers." At the close of the address it was voted that the suggestions therein contained should be made the subject of consideration for the September meeting.

The musical entertainment for the evening consisted of a piano duet by Miss May Atherton and Miss Nellie Lowrey, a song entitled "In the Palace of the King," by Rev. Mr. Parker, and a piano solo by Mr. J. F. Brown.

It was voted that 750 copies of the annual report be printed.

The collection amounted to $145 20.

The Society adjourned, to meet for the next regular meeting at the residence of Mr. H. Waterhouse.

Respectfully submitted, W. J. FORBES,
Recording Secretary.

REPORT OF THE RECORDING SECRETARY.

The Hawaiian Mission Children's Society has held during the year thirteen meetings, including the annual and adjourned annual meetings.

At the November meeting of the Society a committee, consisting of Mrs. Dickson, Mrs. Forbes, Mrs. Bowen, Mrs. Bingham and Mr. F. A. Cooke, was appointed to arrange some plan for making the meetings more attractive to the younger members, so that more of them would find it pleasant to attend. This committee took up the work heartily, and at the December meeting the interest of the Society was greatly increased by their efforts.

Respectfully submitted, W. J. FORBES,
Recording Secretary.

CORRESPONDING SECRETARY'S REPORT.

It seems a very short year since we met to present annual reports, and now comes our thirty-fourth anniversary, with the call for another report.

To this end we begin, as usual, with our annual survey of the missionary fields in which our interest centers.

MICRONESIA.

The Morning Star returned very unexpectedly on the 25th of October from Micronesia, in the middle of her missionary voyage, to bring back Rev. A. A. Sturges, of Ponape, who had sustained a stroke of paralysis.

But he rallied so much on the voyage that on arriving in Honolulu he was able to walk with the aid of his staff, and after a few weeks further recruiting, he left for San Francisco to meet Mrs. Sturges and Juliet, who had lately arrived in Oakland, from Oberlin, Ohio, and they are all now residing there.

The Morning Star was fitted out again as speedily as possible to finish the work of the year, and the Hawaiian Board decided to send as delegate, Dr. C. H. Wetmore, of Hilo, who was accompanied by his daughter Lucy, sent as delegate by the Woman's Board of Missions for the Pacific Islands. The intention was that the Star should proceed to Hilo, and take them on board there, and she started on the 19th of November, after appropriate religious exercises on the wharf. During the next three days a most unusual storm broke over the islands; and, to our surprise, the Morning Star reappeared in Honolulu at midnight on November 22d, having sustained damages to rigging, so that she was unable to get to Hilo. Dr. W. and daughter were sent for to come to Honolulu, and the Star finally left for the voyage November 30th. After five months' absence, and when hearts in Hilo began to be faint and sick with "hope deferred," she was telephoned as off the Hamakua coast at noon April 24th, 1886, arriving at Hilo at 9 o'clock that night.

The beloved Doctor and daughter were welcomed on the wharf by almost the entire foreign community, including the Sunday School children.

And none of those present the next day in the little foreign church, will ever forget that lovely Easter Sabbath, with its beautiful decorations, and its joy in welcoming back the senior deacon, pillar and staff of the church.

That same evening a missionary meeting was held in the same church, crowded to its utmost capacity, to listen to reports of Captain Bray and Dr. Wetmore of the voyage and the work they had witnessed.

The return of our missionary sisters, Miss L. Catheart and Miss A. Palmer, both needing recruiting so much, showed the wisdom of the choice of a physician as delegate. Dr. Wetmore's and Miss Lucy's reports have already been presented to the Societies, which sent them down.

The account of work in the Marshall Islands, Ponape, Mortlocks and Ruk, is full of interest. Miss Catheart's report will be printed in the appendix of correspondence; as well as extracts from Mr. Logan's and other letters. The political changes in these islands during the year—the occupation of the Marshall Islands by Germany and the Caroline Islands by Spain—will bring new developments that only the future can reveal, whether for advancement or retrograde.

We hear that Dr. and Mrs. Pease, who are soon to arrive on their return to Micronesia, will be accompanied by the following young ladies, who are to be associated in the work of the training schools for girls on Kusaiae, for the Gilbert and Marshall Islanders: Miss E. T. Crosby, of Georgetown, Mass.; Miss A. S. Hemmingway, of Springfield, Mass., and Miss S. L. Smith, of Newton Centre, Mass.

SPAIN.

From our missionary cousins in Spain we have received frequent reminders this year, in printed letters and papers. Two articles from the pen of Wm. H. Gulick, in a small pamphlet, entitled "Occasional Letters from Spain," gave a vivid account of the awful cholera visitation of last year, in the very midst of which an association of the Protestant ministers was held at Santander—the station where Rev. Wm. H. G. and his wife have their girls' boarding school, and which had escaped the pestilence. The coming together of many delegates from infected districts was a great risk; but as all appointments had been made, our cousins felt it to be duty, and went forward, and almost in direct fulfillment of Christ's promise, "if they drink any deadly thing, it shall not hurt them," the convention met successfully, spent several days together, the infection was not spread, and none of the pastors died. Some very touching incidents of Christian heroism and self-sacrifice exhibited by the converts from Romanism, during the terrible cholera days, were brought out in the second pamphlet. Mr. Gulick also sent, about Christmas time, an illustrated picture magazine of considerable artistic merit, all in Spanish, and later still, a small newspaper containing the account of the death and burial of King Alfonso, embellished with wood cuts.

As a remembrance from our cousin, Thomas L. Gulick, we have received a copy of the Las Vegas Daily Gazette, New Mexico, U. S. A.—a very creditable newspaper—of February 9th, 1886, which contained a marked paragraph—a report of an address on the Hawaiian Islands, delivered by himself on the previous Sabbath evening, which seemed to have given the people of that out-of-the-way place considerable information concerning his early home and the present state of things here. Previously we had received a copy of the Illustrated Christian Weekly of September 5th, 1885, containing an article under his name, entitled, “A Notable Missionary Conference.” This was a meeting of the International Missionary Union, and was held at Wesley Park, Niagara Falls, Canada, from July 28th to August 7th, 1885. There were about fifty missionaries present, of various evangelical denominations, with reports from nearly all the missions of Christendom.

Just as we reached this part of our report, a fortunate arrival brought a letter from T. L. G., dated May 11th, 1886. He had just heard the telegraphic news of the Honolulu fire, and expressed sympathy, hoping it had not involved disaster to any of the cousins.

We condense a few items from his letter: He has been in New Mexico since September, 1885. His work is partly among the Mexicans, and partly in the Congregational Church of Las Vegas. He also supplies a church at the Hot Springs, a place about six miles from the town, where there is one of the finest hotels in the country, built by the railroad company. “This gives me three sermons and a ride of twelve miles every Sabbath, making it a busy and exhausting day."

After mentioning something of the situation and climate, and the pleasure he has enjoyed in meeting some of the traveling cousins, he tells us that he "hoped to spend his vacation in Berkeley, Cal., supplying the Presbyterian Church there, beginning the 23d of May."

JAPAN.

No direct letters from any of the cousins in Japan this year; but from other sources we learn that Rev. O. H. Gulick and family left the inclement station of Niigata, not long after the Spring opened, and are at Fukuoka, on the southern island of Kiushiu, where they labor as opportunity offers, either in the city or outlying districts.

Our very latest news from cousin Julia H. Gulick is, that she may revisit the Islands soon, as she is in San Francisco. She was called on to accompany Rev. Dr. Davis and family, on their return to the United States, for the special benefit of Mrs. D.'s health. The extremely sad event that transpired, but a few days out, in spite of all their watchfulness and care, must always remain a mystery till "the sea shall give up its dead."

We regret that we have no fresh news to report from the Crawfords in Mexico, though we learn from other sources, of their increasing influence.

IN CHINA

We are represented by Dr. and Mrs. L. H. Gulick, where he continues the agent of the American Bible Society. Their daughter, Hattie, is on her way thither, having arrived at San Francisco on the 19th of May. She is now an educated physician. It has given us sincere pleasure to greet their son, Edward L. Gulick a graduate of Dartmouth College, who is here on a scientific visit with Prof. C. H. Hitchcock, of the same college. He, as well as his elder brother, Sidney, are studying for the ministry, and Luther H., Jr., is studying medicine.

GENERAL CORRESPONDENCE.

Very soon after the annual meeting of last year came a note from C. Seaforth Stewart, of San Francisco, in answer to the circular of March, 1885, enclosing a note of exchange for $50, which will be entered on the Treasurer's report this year. A second note from Mr. Stewart, dated October 20th, 1885, was received, from which we quote a few sentences. His request is a touching proof of what "a bond of union" this Society is. After acknowledging the annual report, and furnishing the complete data of his mother's death, part of which was omitted in the printed list of parents' names, he adds: "My oldest sister, Harriet B. Stewart, born in Honolulu in March, 1825, died February 1st, 1843, before the H. M. C. S. was formed. Had she lived she would have become a Life member, as did our sister, Martha W. Stewart. Can her name be put now on the list upon the payment of the usual ten dollars? If so, I should be thankful. In any event, please have enclosed fifteen dollars, payable to the Treasurer of H. M. C. Society, given to the latter for the use of the Society, and oblige, Yours Truly, C. S. STEWART."

Our Treasurer reports a third check has just arrived from Mr. Stewart, in answer to the circular of 1886.

General Samuel C. Armstrong sent a few lines, dated Hampton, July 31st, 1885, with his check for ten dollars. He says: "I hope your funds are no longer low, but that they came, like the Wailua Falls, in a tremendous flood. The Society keeps on at its good work. I well remember the day it was formed in the old adobe school house; though the little boys who sat there, dangling their legs from the benches, are now gray-haired men, whose legs no longer dangle." * * * * "I would send my special aloha to my old playmates, once rollicking boys, now the fathers of your meetings, surrounded by young images of themselves, soon to be known as Father Judd, Father Emerson, and so on."

A very interesting letter from Miss Nellie Judd, written in August, 1885, from the depths of a summer resort in the forests of Maine, carried us, with herself and other members of Hon. H. A. P. Carter's family, into charming views of lake, forest and mountain, and told many items of their life in Washington, with glimpses of the religious and benevolent activities in which they participate. But amid all the scenes and labors, Hawaii is never forgot.

A letter from Mrs. Augusta Carter, dated Boston, September 30, 1885, was so full of interest and information to all the grades of our society, both elderly and youthful, it seems a model letter. Mrs. Carter's loving and sensible remarks on the necessity of constantly cherishing and encouraging the attendance of the younger members of the Society, came at so suitable a time that they helped much a revival of interest on that subject, and a special effort was made in December, for the younger cousins, with happy effect.

Rev. S. L. Conde sent a newspaper from Rockford, with passages marked relative to his church and choir.

Mrs. C. B. Andrews sent very full particulars of the last days and death of Mrs. Florence A. Neal, which will be mentioned further on.

We are very sorry that acknowledgments of the annual reports of the last year were fewer than usual, since the expense of printing and constantly sending them, certainly warrants at least a postal from so many.

The mail by steamer of June 8th brought some welcome letters containing items for the Society. Mr. M. W. Pogue, of Napa, Cal., has rendered the Secretary efficient aid in learning the whereabouts of the Pierpont sisters, the granddaughters of Rev. Sheldon Dibble. She enclosed a letter from Miss Maria G. Pierpont to herself, in which she writes gratefully to Mrs. P. for sending her a copy of the H. M. C. S. report for 1885. Mrs. Mary Drum, the oldest sister, is the wife of a Presbyterian minister; has been married eleven years, and has two children, Emily and Willie Drum. At present they are residing in San Francisco, and Mr. D. is teaching. Her sister Clara is residing in San Francisco, and we judge had been married since we lost sight of her, but the information is not explicit. Miss Pierpont is a successful teacher in San Juan, Cal., where she has been for the last seven years. She promises to write herself to the Secretary, but as it has not come, we trust these facts may not be unwelcome.

The same mail brought a letter from Miss Lucretia F. Ingraham, formerly an efficient helper in Kawaiahao Seminary, and afterwards teacher of the Union Foreign School in Hilo. She says: "I did not receive the annual report of June, 1885. I hope the cousins will not think me out of the ranks, but claim me still as one of the family. Though my work is in this part of the vineyard, I shall always cherish very dear remembrance of my Honolulu friends, and hope they will not forget to include me in their prayers when they remember the fraternity." She still resides in Hunter, N. Y., and seems to be an active worker in missionary and temperance efforts, as of yore.

Miss Helen S. Norton, late Principal of Kawaiahao

Seminary, also retains constant remembrance of her friends and work at the Islands. The Kawaiahao Seminary is very dear to her heart. We are happy to report that her health, after two years of enforced rest, is improving, so that she "hopes she may be of some use again in teaching."

MARRIAGES.

We must note first, two marriages which took place last year, but of which no particulars were sent us :

Rev. Horace J. Taylor, formerly missionary to Apaiang, Gilbert Islands, was married in the spring of 1885, but the name of the lady we have not heard. He removed soon after to Tacoma, Washington Territory, where the family are now residing. He is employed as a Home Missionary.

Mrs. Alfred Castle changed her name in May, 1885, to Mrs. Wm. T. Williams, and resides in Canada.

In Oberlin, Ohio, August 20, 1885, our adopted cousin, Mr. Wm. A. Bowen, was married to Miss Emma V. Kennedy, of Brunswick, Ohio. Mr. Bowen brought his bride to Honolulu, where she has been warmly welcomed.

In New York City, September 26th, 1885, Mr. D. Stewart Dodge was married to Miss Elizabeth S. Boyd (the sister of Mrs. A. F. Judd), who has been a member of our Society a number of years.

Two sons of Samuel Holmes, of Mont Clair, N. J., whose names have been long on our roll of names, are reported married, viz: Mr. Samuel Judd Holmes to Miss Josephine Brantigam, March 18, 1885; Mr. David Goodale Holmes to Miss E. Annie Bates, April 7, 1885. We should feel happy to have these adopted cousins make their brides life members.

This is truly a notable year, since not one reported marriage has occurred in the direct line of missionary descendants, from whom this Society derives its name and character. If there are omissions, it is unavoidable.

BIRTHS.

DEATHS.

Again, as we approach this theme, we find honored names to record. Two more beloved missionary mothers have passed away. Members of the same reinforcement to this mission, and life-long friends, the manner of their departure was strikingly alike. Mrs. A. D. T. Chapin, of Winchester, Mass., and Mrs. Sarah J. Lyman, of Hilo, Hawaii, both passed away in sleep; the former October 26, 1885, and the latter December 7, 1885. Mrs. C. had been an invalid for many years, and her faithful daughter had several months of tender watching (when she knew the end grew daily nearer,) before the last night, when sleeping by her side, she waked to find her mother's cold hand clasped in her own—the spirit departed. Mother Lyman was in her usual health, and there was no special warning. During the week she had received the particulars of the death of a beloved grandson in Chicago, and had shed many tears of sympathy for her far-away loved ones, which probably made inroads on her waning vitality. Your Corresponding Secretary was filling a daughter's place to her, and received the last "good night," and on going to call her as usual, in the morning, met not her usual answering, "Good Morning." She was "asleep in Jesus." Among the papers in her portfolio, evidently lately copied by her hand, was found the following lines:

"Life! we've been long together,
 Through pleasant and through stormy weather.
 'Tis hard to part when friends are dear,
 Perhaps 'twill cost a sigh or tear;
 Then steal away, give little warning!
 Say not good night, but in some brighter clime Bid me good morning!"

January 3d, 1886, the Messenger came for Rev. Dwight Baldwin, M. D. who has walked among us so many years with his venerable form, his snowy head and beard, waking love in many hearts. He enjoyed his usual health up to a few days before his departure, when he was stricken with apoplexy. He lay, ministered to with care, and departed in peace, surrounded by children and grandchildren.

Another name of note among the fathers departed, though not on these Islands, is Prof. James Eells, D.D., L.L.D., who died in Cincinnati, Ohio, March 9th, 1886, of angina pectoris. Many of the Island cousins will remember the very pleasant visit of Dr. Eells and his brother to these Islands about ten years ago, when they were guests of Hon. Samuel N. Castle, and became so interested in this Society as to beg the admission of all their children as life members, which was granted, and the money promptly paid to the Treasury. Prof. Eells was then a prominent pastor in Oakland, Cal., but soon after was called to Lane Theological Seminary, Cincinnati, where he remained till death.

Still another honored name, is that of L. L. Rice, called by all of us who knew him "Father Rice." He was the father of Mrs. J. M. Whitney, of Honolulu, one of our most esteemed and efficient adopted cousins. Father Rice arrived at these Islands in December, 1879, and has been identified with all our religious and benevolent interests for over six years. His death, too, was "like a translation." To all appearance in ordinary health, on the morning of April 14th, 1885, and engaged in cheerful conversation, he threw himself back on his couch, drew one sharp breath of pain, and was gone." His age was 85 years.

But not of aged ones alone have we been bereaved. The young husband and father in life's prime has been taken. Rev. Frank Armstrong Beckwith died in San Francisco December 12th, 1885. He came to Hawaii, seeking health, two years previous, and seeming to improve, was persuaded to take the place as Professor at Lahainaluna, Maui, where he spent one delightful year of usefulness. But the insidious disease (consumption) was advancing, and he was obliged to resign and return to California in July. After vainly seeking among the foot-hills of California that health he longed for, to continue in His Master's service, he returned to San Francisco, to the home of his father, Rev. E. G. Beckwith, where death came gently. Seldom has such exuberance of hope existed. To the very last he declined to believe his life work ended; and we feel that most energetic service is accorded him in the unending life he has entered. His lovely widow, with her two infants, has returned to the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Holmes, in Mont Clair, New Jersey.

The death of Mrs. Florence (Andrews) Neal, the young widow of Dr. Robert J. Neal, was anticipated in last year's report. She lingered for months, nursed with devoted care by her brother, Loirin A. Andrews, of Makawao, Maui, and her sister, Miss Lucy C. Andrews, who left her post at Wellesley, College to go and minister to her. About a month before her death, as she had an intense longing to try a trip to the mountains, they carried her to "The Willows," a place several miles from Aintab, where a number of the missionaries were camping out. She enjoyed the change exceedingly, and passed a delightful birthday, July 30th, in the open air, but the exhausted powers of nature soon failed, and on August 18th, 1885, the silver cord was loosed, and she was reunited to her loved ones gone before. The remains were carried down the mountain side, and laid to rest by the side of her husband in the cemetery at Aintab. We have seen in the religious papers that, in the settlement of her own and her husband's estates, a handsome legacy was left to the Medical College of Aintab and a small one to Makawao Seminary, Maui.

We have been informed that Prof. Wm. S. Clark, of Amherst, has died during the past year—husband of Harriet (Richards) Williston.

Mark Van Cleve Thompson passed away in Billings, Montana, November 13th, 1885.

As we approach the record of the gathered little ones, we shrink from writing the words which open afresh the wounds in so many hearts of grief, spoken or unspoken.

October 26th, 1885, bright and beautiful Harry, only son of Dr. Henry M. and Sarah (Clark) Lyman, aged 6 years, a child of rarest promise, was snatched from their grasp by diphteria, after a week's illness.

Early in January, 1886, the local papers bore the following sad notice: "Died, in Waimea, Kauai, December 20th, 1885, Francis Carlos, aged 2 years 7½ months." December 27th, 1885, Louis Berkley, aged 11 months, sons of Louis H. and Mary Rowell Stoltz.

A little later we noted: "Died, in Brooklyn, N. Y., February 26th, 1886, Alfred Cotton Rowell, son of George A. and Fannie Rowell, aged 2 years and 8 months."

While lips still quiver and eyes fill, as we think of the sad day, only one short month ago, when we gathered in sympathy at the last rites, before was borne from the Oahu College, the "Angel" of that whole household, who had so lately been given to God in baptism, with the name of William Howard Merritt. May the influence of the death of the spotless little one be the messenger of life to many.

In closing this report, your Corresponding Secretary, for many years, retires from office, and be-speaks for her successor, Mrs. Lydia Bingham Coan, your sympathy and co-operation.

Respectfully submitted,
M. A. CHAMBERLAIN,
Corresponding Secretary.

REPORT OF HOME CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

Looking back on the past year, we may, indeed, feel encouraged for the assistance given by our Society toward the support of Christian education on the Islands, as the following report shows :

HILO BOYS' BOARDING SCHOOL.

Mr. Oleson, who has been working long and earnestly in aid of the fund of which he speaks, says : "The year has been one of profit to our school in several directions. We are hoping, before the present term closes, that our Lyman Memorial Fund of $10,000 will be completed. We are in possession of pledges sufficient to complete the fund, contingent on our raising a little less than $2,000. It is believed that friends of the school will respond to the call to aid in the worthy undertaking. The wards of your society are doing well, and you have reason to be grateful that, as an organization, you can help it effectively in this work of training young Hawaiians in Christian schools."

Miss Carpenter, of

EAST MAUI FEMALE SEMINARY,

After an absence of several months, returned, much recruited, to take up work again. She writes: "I met Miss Sheely in California, on her way to visit her aged mother. Miss Potter, Miss Cameron and Miss Humphrey have been here the entire year; Miss Maria Forbes a few months. Miss Cora Wickoff has recently come to us from California. Ninety-seven different pupils have been in school during the year. The beneficiaries of the H. M. C. S. are the same as last year. Help is asked for the two little daughters of Rev. Nawahine."

Lilia Pali, one of our beneficiaries, has written a note of thanks to the Society.

From Mr. F. W. Damon, Superintendent Chinese Mission, we have the following in regard to MISSION SCHOOL FOR CHINESE GIRLS.

Mrs. Simpson, the lady teacher in charge since November 1st, says: "The school steadily increases in numbers. Of thirty pupils now enrolled, twenty are in regular attendance. These are both Chinese and half-Chinese girls. Most gratifying progress has been made. Since Mrs. Kinney's departure for America, Miss Maud Kelley and Miss Ladd have taught, with much acceptance. We feel most grateful for the interest which the Cousins' Society has manifested in this work. The Chinese are being led by this school to take a new interest in the education of their daughters. The pupils of this school have sent in a neat testimonial of thanks to the Society for the aid given them."

From Miss Alexander, of

KAWAIHAO SEMINARY,

We have as follows: "Our work as teachers has been made much easier by the erection of Pauahi Hall, named in honor of the late Mrs. Bishop, who bequeathed the sum of $5,000. With earnest hope we look forward to the completion of the whole.

Miss Alice West, a faithful worker in the school for the past four years, has resigned, because of ill health. Our ninety-three girls have been in good health; no serious illness during the year. We would extend thanks to all kind friends who have aided us.

Respectfully Submitted,
HELEN L. HILLEBRAND,
Home Corresponding Secretary.

Audited and found correct.

A WORTHY MONUMENT TO OUR MISSIONARY FATHERS.

AN ADDRESS BY THE RETIRING PRESIDENT,
MR. F. W. DAMON.

We meet to-night to set up another "mile-stone" in the historic development of the Cousins' Society. As the old year closes and the new opens before us, it is fitting that we should, from this mount of vision, glance backward over the way in which we have been led, and then, with firm faith and larger resolve than ever before, look into the opening vista of the Future. This annual gathering should be to us a season of blessing, when we renewedly consecrate ourselves to maintain the principles upon which our organization is founded, regard ourselves for the active and energetic performance of the duties which devolve upon us, and ask for a more complete spiritual enduement from on high.

In the retrospect we find much which should fill our hearts with gratitude; years filled with mercies and blessings; opportunities, of a peculiarly varied and interesting nature, of aiding in the advance of the Redeemer's Kingdom; privileges of social and Christian fellowship, most delightful and stimulating. Whatever the future may have in store for us we have reason to rejoice in the noble record of the Past! It is, however, for a moment only that here we should pause. We are not to rest satisfied with what has been accomplished, but to seek rather in every possible way to enlarge the sphere of our activity. This is alone life and growth. There are those of our number who are pondering the possibilities of this future. Certain indications lead them to ask what promise of permanency is there in this association, so dear to us all? As those who have been bearing the "burden and heat of the day" must sooner or later, of necessity, pass on the trust to other and younger hands, there should be frequent and clear enunciation of those cardinal principles upon which our Society has so long and successfully stood. In the maintenance of these is the surest pledge of the maintenance of this unique missionary organization. We need also enlargement of effort. The spirit of an age, great with possibilities, is pressing upon us relentlessly, to see whether we are ready and fitted to meet new and important issues, greater, perhaps, than we have ever been called to face. I believe this Society is now rapidly entering upon a stage of development which will be a period of severe and crucial testing. It is a time for earnest and prayerful thought, but not, I believe, for discouragement. The old order may change in some outward form of expression, while the principles of our union remain intact. We have a grand and noble foundation already deeply laid: let us raise on this a harmonious and fitting superstructure. There are possibilities in our Society which wait for fuller development. The bringing of them into action will tend to perpetuate the life of our organization more than anything else could do; will assist most surely in advancing the cause of truth and pure religion in our land, and carry forward the work so heroically begun by the saintly men and women who first planted upon the shores of Hawaii nei the standard of the cross. My object this evening will be to suggest a new departure in the line of missionary effort, which would in no way conflict with work already in hand, but would rather inspire us with new life, and in achieving which we should be raising "a worthy monument to our Missionary Fathers."

As we near the close of this present century we are irresistibly led to notice interesting and striking historic contrasts. Naturally our thoughts are directed to the changes which have taken place in the portion of the great world where our lot in life is cast. Centuries have passed since the day of the great discoverer,

“ When with eagle eyes

He stared at the Pacific, and all his men

Look'd at each other with a wild surmise—

Silent, upon a peak in Darien.”

But it is within one hundred years that its real period of highest development has begun. Only one hundred years ago last month, the 25th of May, 1780, the ships commanded by Portlock and Dixon reached the coast of Hawaii, and three days afterward the frigate of the ill-fated La Perouse anchored off Lahaina, the first foreign visitors after the death of Cook. The first Protestant missionary entered the Pacific with the close of the last century. What changes since those days! Through the isles of the ocean a new life has begun to thrill. Forces of upheaval and recreation are at work in the lands bordering the Pacific, producing more potent and enduring results than those mighty volcanic energies which were once active in the vast fire-belt which girdled this ocean with a zone of flame. Australia has sprung almost full-grown into manly rivalry with the world. Up through the islands of the eastern seas the dawn must soon break. China is beginning to feel through its tremendous length the presage of coming change. Japan is already bathed in the light of a glorious morning. The western slopes of America, North and South, have entered, or are soon to enter, upon a stage of development which, even fifty years ago, would have been regarded as the dream of a visionary. Where the ships of the early discoverers once wended their slow way through unknown seas, swift steamers of magnificent build, the forerunners of a vast and splendid fleet, are now beginning to move in stately procession. Through the dim depths of the ocean will undoubtedly soon thrill the messages of the world, carried by the power of electricity. The great European Powers now struggle for foothold on coral islets in the vast blue expanse. In the midst of this new world stands our own group, on the map confessedly of diminutive size, but undoubtedly called to be of influence in the propagation of great and noble ideas. The arrival of the first band of missionaries on these shores was the beginning of a new era for this land. What of purity and true righteousness, now work for good in this Kingdom, is mainly due to the teachings of that company of faithful, consecrated men and women and their successors, who first enunciated to a people emerging from barbarism the principles of the religion of Jesus Christ. It is not worth the while to answer those who would detract in any way from the value of their labors. The petty malice of these feeble accusations is too patent, and the seal of the Divine approval is now set upon their heroic and faithful efforts. The work upon which they entered was not, in many respects, an inviting one. Home and kindred had been left far behind, and all the delights of civilized and cultured society. On a few lonely islands, in the midst of a vast and almost unknown ocean, they decided to spend their days. There was a lack of much which missionaries in some other lands have found to attract and interest them. No long or stately historic record was disclosed before them, instancing the past achievements of the race and suggesting the possibilities of which it might be capable, when inspired by nobler and loftier motives of action. No rich mine of literature in the language of the people was offered them, to act as an incentive to closer study of the language which enshrined it. No ancient civilization had already been laid upon which they might further build. But they were not easily daunted. They sought to give to a people lying in darkness a knowledge of the Divine love, as manifested in Jesus Christ, to reveal to them the heights and depths of their Heavenly Father's infinite compassion and their own great need, and to make them sharers in that glorious heirship to which they were called. They brought light and hope into the midst of heathen night, and the blessings of civilization and education; they joined heartily in forming noble national ideals for an infant people, and struggled against forces threatening to overwhelm the life and independence of the race. It is not necessary, however, to attempt to eulogize this noble company. Their record is on high. Nearly all have passed into the presence of the King, and now see His beauty. The few who still remain we cannot feel will very long be spared to us—tenderly and lovingly as we cling to them. We, who are members of this Society, in whose veins flows their blood, or who are linked to them by kinship of faith and ideas, have received from them a solemn and important trust. Already the names of some of these early missionary fathers, especially to our younger members, have a remote and distant sound. The scene of their labors is fast undergoing great and radical changes. The picturesque old mission homes, with their beautiful setting of blossoming gardens, and overshadowing trees, once the cradle of these sons, engaged in the active duties of life, are fast passing away. There is a pathos in this, more eloquent than words, as one recalls all the sweet and sacred associations which cluster about them. Time and the elements have, in more than a few instances, left ruinous marks on some of the old churches, where in other days the fathers and grandfathers of some of those connected with our Society preached the Word of Life to many, who now stand with the redeemed in the presence of God. In the districts where the missionaries once passed to and fro on their errands of mercy, new faces and forms are to be seen. Lately standing in the shadow of two of the old missionary houses, in one of the loveliest regions of the group, where now not one member of two large households was to be found, I was forcibly reminded of the changes which time had wrought. I could not but think that a time might come when a later visitor would search in vain even for these vestiges of an interesting and eventful past. It occurred to me that here it might, perhaps, be well to erect some tablet or brief inscription to recall the names and work of those now gone. But later thought has convinced me that here, and at other similar points in our Island Kingdom it might be in our power to raise a more enduring monument than that of bronze or marble—one which in the holiest and best sense would cause the names of the apostles of Christianity on these shores to be remembered by people of a later time with new love and veneration. The men and women of holy spirit and modest lives who have gone from us, would ask for no costly monumental pile, beautiful with artistic ornament and adorned with elaborate and eulogistic epitaphs. But could they speak to us audibly out of the infinite glory into which they have entered, they would say, "Carry forward the work which we have here begun; preach the religion of Jesus to those of every nation who are now here in the land of our adoption and your birth, and to the latest generation; when the work wavers spring to the rescue; when the power of evil rages about those whom we have led from darkness into light, then bring your forces to bear; keep alive the sacred flame in every hamlet, in every family in the ocean-girt Kingdom." In devising means and methods for carrying forward their work so nobly begun, and in personally consecrating ourselves to it, would we be raising the noblest, the grandest of monuments! I have stood amid the fallen glories of Rome, and the shattered marbles of the Athenian Acropolis, wrought with the consummate skill of Phideian art, and gazed in wonder at the marvelous achievements of artistic beauty, lavished upon the monuments reared by the Mogul conquerors under the burning sky of India, but upon all I could see the mark of the great destroyer, Time. We should seek rather to impress truths, to awaken immortal souls to a sense of their limitless privileges, to lift high before the people the divinely inspiring ideals of Christianity. In so doing we shall rear memorials not for time but for eternity.

To this work in our Islands, I feel that our Cousins Society is pre-eminently called. We have capabilities which may be further developed and produce wide-reaching good. Let us consider especially this evening, one potent means which might possibly be employed. When, a number of years since, it was decided by the American Board to withdraw from active participation in the work on these Islands; a step was taken, the results of which, in their full import, could not, of course, be foreseen. The old missionaries were not reinforced by outside aid, and on the shoulders of a native ministry was laid a burden which we can now see was too heavy for it to bear. I think there are few who are truly conversant with the real state of affairs on our Islands but will acknowledge the inexpediency of this action. Now comes the question, can this mistake, if such it was, be remedied? I believe it can be, to a great extent. There are good forces at work here now. The North Pacific Institute is doing much to provide pastors, well trained and disciplined, for our Hawaiian churches, and there are many other agencies for which we should be duly grateful. But these need to be further reinforced. New nationalities are crowding in upon us. The suggestion which I have here to propose is one not wild and unconsidered, but supported by wise and thoughtful friends with whom I have talked on this subject, and also by considerable personal observation of the field during the past five years—namely, that on each of our principal islands should be stationed one ordained Foreign missionary, carefully selected and filled with the same spirit of missionary consecration as that which animated those who came to our Islands sixty or seventy years ago. His work would be that of a kind of missionary Bishop, aiding and assisting in all branches of religious and missionary effort, on his particular island, with especial reference to that among the Hawaiian people, but not conflicting with work already begun. He would visit from time to time each district and station in his field, encouraging and enlightening those already at work, enlisting the sympathies and attention of others, devising methods of extending and enlarging the sphere of their missionary activity. What a boon such a man would be, should he prove to possess the real spirit and necessary tact, to the young Hawaiian ministers and their people, taking the place of brother and helper, giving them ideas and suggestions out of his larger experience and broader education. In addition to his labors for the aboriginal race, he would have varied and interesting channels of usefulness opening up before him on every side. His field would not be a narrow and limited one; only a man himself limited and narrow, would count it so; one of broad and worldwide horizon would find in it most tempting possibilities. Our life has become strangely cosmopolit-

tan. In almost any group which faces you on one of our plantations, you are, as it were, brought face to face with the four quarters of the globe! In nearly all the districts of our islands the English-speaking population is constantly increasing. Only in a few of the principal centers is it possible to support preachers specially for this class. Such a helper, however, as we are now speaking of, could be here also of essential aid. Bible classes and religious services could be held periodically by him, and the people stimulated to keep up services of their own between these visits. The communion could be administered, baptisms and marriages officiated at. Then come the thousands of heathen people from China and Japan—this in itself a vast and inviting field. The Christian workers among these nationalities would feel the incentive and stimulus which the mere presence of such a sympathetic friend would be. A small but ever-increasing vocabulary could soon be mastered, which, while it would not be sufficient for every branch of the work, would be sufficient to bring him near the heart of the people. Without a knowledge of either language, a work in itself also important, could be accomplished by the distribution of tracts and religious literature, now appearing in such varied and attractive form from the great mission presses of both lands. It is with difficulty that I restrain myself in speaking of the possibilities awaiting a worker in this branch of the field alone. The good which may be wrought cannot be over-estimated. Every soul, truly illuminated with the divine light, becomes itself a radiating center of light. It is not often the great and mighty, but usually the men of humble degree, who become the real missionary forces of the world. Truth sown here may bear a glorious harvest on Asiatic soil. Light up the soul of some bright Chinese or Japanese youth here, and you may be lighting a torch which shall shine in the advance guard of the attack of Christianity upon the powers of evil in these great empires. A narrow field—rather one so great, so many-sided that it would be perhaps too stimulating, too inviting, for ordinary strength. Then there are thousands still of other nationalities which have come to us, or will come to us from the North and South, the East and West. To them should the Bible be given and the religion of Jesus, in its simplicity and purity, preached. There are difficulties in the field, I am aware. But all true men and workers expect these. The compensations, however, are great and manifold—too numerous and patent to be here further dwelt upon. A man to fill such a position must possess an earnest spirit, love of mankind, not of one nationality alone; tact in dealing with his fellows, an ability to endure a fair amount of work, and possess some linguistic ability. I believe there are such men in the world, many of them, and I believe God will help us to find them, if we set about it in earnest. I believe, moreover, there are men in our own Society who would be fitted peculiarly for just this work.

Undoubtedly the majority of those present will acknowledge the desirability of undertaking some such new departure as that outlined above. But many may regard the financial difficulties connected with the support of such laborers in the vineyard as well nigh insuperable. It is in our power, I believe, in time to prove to the world that such is not the case. It is to the serious consideration of just this point, this evening, that I would call your attention. We have already a list of appropriations which reach many and important objects. There should be no retrenchment in these. It is encouraging to see that the society has determined not to fall behind its old record in this line. Instead of retrenchment, we should seek to enlarge our bounds as never before. Will the sons and daughters of the Hawaiian mission, descendants of now sainted missionary ancestors, and all who are united with them, join hands and hearts in undertaking to raise a noble and enduring monument to their memory? Let us take the necessary steps towards arranging for the support of these missionary helpers. I would rejoice to-night if we could see a committee appointed to solicit subscriptions towards a large "Permanent Fund," the interest of which should be used for this high and holy purpose. I believe that there would be a generous response. This work would not be accomplished in a day; but urged with enthusiasm and prayerful wisdom, there would be encouraging results. There is already established, through the generosity of one of our number, a fund which, for some years past, has been accumulating interest. It is possible that this Cousin might be willing to allow this to be the nucleus of a still larger endowment. It might be wisest first to attempt to raise a sufficient amount to enable us to keep one worker soon on one of the Islands of the group, to test the practicability of the undertaking and to speed us on to still larger effort. In this matter I feel sure the Cousins Society would meet with cordial co-operation from the Hawaiian Board, and many residents in different parts of the Islands, from our own churches, and from other parts of the world. More lasting and enduring would be such an investment than any we could make in business on land or sea, in stocks or plantations, or things of this life which fade away. Do not let us say to one another to-night as we go hence: "This is fanciful, impracticable, impossible." But let us think of it earnestly, prayerfully, determinedly. Let us seek, in this way, to raise a fair and glorious memorial to those whose names and noble deeds should be to us now and ever, a stimulus and incentive to deeper consecration, and larger, more holy living.

The reflex influence on our Society would be very great. Frequent reports from these workers would tend greatly to quicken our interest in their respective fields. The enthusiasm which might thus be awakened would give a new impetus and strength to our Society, which would be felt not only in our home work but in our foreign field as well. I would strongly advocate the formation of branch organizations of the Cousins Society on all the principal Islands. Has not the time come for us to enlarge our borders and to welcome all those who are truly in sympathy with the spirit of this Society? The workers, of whom I have been speaking above, would be direct links between these branches and the parent organization. There are many in the out-districts who would be directly influenced for good by being admitted to such a Society as is ours. Such a monument would bind together widely separated portions of the group; would unite in one noble brotherhood those who desire to see the cause of truth and pure religion advanced. I can scarcely imagine a nobler stage of development upon which our Society could enter. The foundation in California of a similar branch would tend to strengthen the interest of the large circle of Cousins now residing there, and would be a link to the great body of Christian friends and sympathizers all over the world, and direct their interest to Christian and missionary operations in this ocean. In this way we may hope to enter upon a future larger and more fruitful than our past record, unique and interesting as that has been. All this would call for the hearty co-operation of our individual members. There will be need of zeal and devotion, of earnest prayer, and perhaps self-denial; but our opportunity is one worthy of all this. Cousins, we need more and more to pray for the power of the Holy Spirit. Let us who are now in the midst of the earnest battle of life and called to face its great issues here on these Islands be earnest, be faithful and true. We should become, each one of us, centers of light and helpfulness to all with whom we come in contact. I have found lately, in my reading a few words written in reference to the United States, but by one born on our Islands, which seem to me full of meaning and instruction for Christian people everywhere :

“ Nothing, I am sure, will ever rejuvenate Society, purify religion, lift up this country of ours to the height of its noble opportunities, except greater simplicity and integrity of life and more vigorous insistence upon principles as against policy. But intimidation and anathema will not bring these about. The revolution must be worked by examples of honor, generosity, self-sacrifice in countless individual lives. It is not language, but lives, that can revive pure and sane religion or honesty in Government or health in society. What we need is * * * * * persons, in the largest, soundest, holiest sense of that word ; persons through whom shall be conveyed the clear, strong tones of truth, divine and human.”

In closing I desire to say a few words to our younger Cousins, in whose keeping largely lies the future of this Society. During the past year it has been with pleasure that I have noticed your presence at our regular meetings. Abundant testimony was given, especially at our interesting meeting just before Christmas, to the earnest desire felt by the older members, that every means should be used to interest and attract this large and important portion of our society. We want yon with us ; we need your help and assistance, more than perhaps you realize. Let this coming year be one in which you will resolve, so far as it lies in your power, to be present at all our regular meetings, to use your influence for the upbuilding of our noble organization, to consecrate yourselves to the support of the principles upon which it is founded. Yours is a grand heritage ; your opportunity is equally grand. The story is told of one of the old conquerors of Greece, who had traveled in his boyhood over the battle-fields where Miltiades had won victories and set up trophies, that, returning, he said : "These trophies of Miltiades will never let me sleep." About you on every side are disclosed greater trophies than were ever set up by Grecian general—the trophies of your forefathers' spiritual victories. Will you, can you permit these to let you sleep ? No ! a thousand times no ! Rather answer, "They shall be to us a bugle call to action and noble endeavor !" Oh ! what golden, priceless opportunities and privileges you have ! We want you to become, in the highest and best sense, messengers, missionaries of the Gospel, the "good news" of Jesus Christ." You stand on the threshold of active life. Let this life be one of blessing, of happiness, to others. Are there not those here, of our own number, who will dedicate themselves to work in Micronesia, in China, or Japan, or wherever God may call them ? Shall we pray for others to go, and fail to hear the Master's voice calling to us ? This Society originated largely in the fact that one of our Cousins entered upon active missionary work in Micronesia. Are there not those here to-night who will follow his example, and give new life and inspiration to us all ? In the quaint old city of Basle, Switzerland, stands a mission house, where workers are trained for service in distant heathen fields. In one of the corridors of this building are to be found rooms over the doors of which are written China, India, Africa, and the names of other spiritually needy and benighted lands. Here, in quietness and undisturbed by outward influences, the different students can retire and pray for God's blessing on their various countries, and that they may be fitted for the work when the call comes. Might it not be well for us, on each of our own hearts, to have engraved the great mission fields of the world, and when alone with God, ask Him to make us ready to go when and where He wishes! There is no work more joyous, more grand, more blessed, than that of the missionary. I may be pardoned for giving here a beautiful thought which he has come under my notice. A heroic and successful worker among the Chinese in San Francisco, a lady of rare refinement and culture, who goes into the homes of the vilest and most depraved, makes this answer to those who wonder at her interest in the work she has undertaken: "You do not know; you see this work only from the outside; you should know it from within, as I know it." Again she writes: "When looking at the windows of the Cathedral of Milan from the outside, they seem to be nothing but dark, dingy, glass; but get inside and let the light shine through them, and they are turned into emeralds, and sapphires, and rubies, gorgeous with the forms of saints and angels." Taking this as his text, a Christian writer has said something like the following in its general idea: "I commend this beautiful illustration to those who can see in the holy toils of the missionary among the heathen only repulsiveness. Dear friends, get inside of the work; know something about it; read the literature of it; catch the spirit of those who have engaged in it; go down into the lanes and hedges with those whose labors are devoted to it, and there you shall see. Some of you have crossed the ocean for the purpose of standing in the naves of the great cathedrals, and have looked with wonder upon the glories about you, but in the inner recesses of this work for Christ you are under the dome of that great spiritual temple that shall fill the whole earth. The light which streams upon it shines forth from Him whom John saw standing in the sun, and the illuminated figures about you are those who shall one day surround the throne of God and the Lamb. Get inside of the work while the sun shines in its brightness and the evening shadows have not fallen." (Shall not the example of these dear friends, with whose presence we are this evening honored, be a still further stimulus to "get inside the work ?")

The thoughts given above are no digression from our central theme this evening. Only as we, old and young, are filled with the true spirit of missionary consecration, shall we be able worthily to carry forward the work here begun on our Islands and in this ocean. Let us to-night rise to meet the Future with earnest, hopeful spirit. Here let us renewedly promise to uphold the standard our fathers once unfurled, and on this write in golden letters: "These Islands, this great ocean and its encircling shores for Christ !"

CORRESPONDENCE.

ANAPAUA, Ruk, March 6, 1886.

Dear Cousins: May I ask you to get the report of our work from our journal letters, and the account of our stewardship, in the matter of funds, from Mr. Hall. I am much pressed for time at the last by reason of the change in the voyage of the Morning Star. The teachers supported by your appropriations are at present: Rev. Obadiah Jotapa-Ta, Satoan, Katu and Mor, Mortlock. Caleb—Luk-unor, Oniop and Etal, Mortlock. Jorams—Nama-luk—Rev. Solomon—Noj—Losap and Nama—Rev. Moses. Uman, Ruk—Manassa. Fefan, Ruk—Titus, Uela, Ruk—David. Ruk—Not yet located. Of these, Titus came from Ponape by the Morning Star last September, and David by the present trip.

We this year organized as a mission, or association, and held interesting and profitable meetings while doing the work at Mortlock. The teachers ask that instead of getting their supplies as formerly they have a stated allowance. They would like to have supplies ordered, as heretofore, from Honolulu, but with the privilege of choosing what they want out of them, up to the extent of their allowance. I told them I had no authority in the matter, but would refer to you. On the whole, I think the request a reasonable one. Should you consider it best to grant the definite allowance to each, you could determine the sum to be given by referring to the amount allowed native teachers in the Gilbert and Marshall Islands.

In caring for the teachers when they come to us from time to time, for medical or other help, and in housing our scholars from the other Islands, we have trouble to build suitable dwellings. There is very little timber here, except the breadfruit trees, and these are too precious to be cut. If you thought best, we would be glad to have what you can save out of your appropriations to invest in rough N. W. lumber, which we should use largely for floors. If you think best to do so, will you please to send down as much lumber as the appropriation will pay for, after filling the bills, reserving $40 for contingencies.

Your Cousin,

ROBERT W. LOGAN.

HONOLULU, May 15, 1886.

Miss M. A. Chamberlain: In behalf of the Marshall Island Training School, permit me to return thanks to the Cousins' Society for the gift of fifty dollars ($50), appropriated in 1885, to aid in our school.

This contains not only my own thanks, but also that of our school. News does not reach us often, and when it does it is welcomed as eagerly by the scholars as the teachers. They call for the news from our homes, from the "dri bebe" in Boston (the American Board), the "dri bebe" in Hawaii (Hawaiian Board), and the "ro dri jibon" (those who help), which includes the "Cousins," and could you hear their prayers of thanksgiving and praise, you would feel that your help is not in vain.

Perhaps you will be glad to know a little of those whom you have aided from year to year in our school. Four graduates have been teaching the past two years with good success, and we trust they will soon have sufficient experience to take work by themselves, while new teachers will graduate and begin work, as assistants to the pastors, as these have done.

Some of you may be asking: "What of the school now? Is it disbanded?" No, indeed! We do not so understand it. During these months, when, in the providence of God, it has been necessary to leave them in their homes for a long vacation, they have been left under the direct supervision of the pastors of the different islands, and almost without exception, will be in the mission schools, either as assistant teachers or pupils, until such time as the Morning Star shall return, and Dr. and Mrs. Pease, now in the United States, will gather them into school again. It is probable three of them will take permanent work teaching on return of the Star.

In visiting the schools at the different islands it was encouraging to find a good number, both boys and girls, preparing to enter school at Kusaie.

Truly, it is a rich privilege to give the Gospel message to the dwellers upon the isles of the sea, and earnest prayer is for needed strength to return and continue in the work.

May the Father grant continued prosperity to the work you are doing for Him.

LILLIE S. CATHCART.

CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS OF THE HAWAIIAN MISSION CHILDREN'S SOCIETY.

PREAMBLE.

We, the children of the American Protestant Mission to the Hawaiian Islands, desiring to promote the cause of Gospel Missions, as well as to strengthen the bonds of union that naturally exist amongst us, do hereby organize ourselves into a Social Missionary Society, under the following Constitution and By-Laws:

CONSTITUTION.

ARTICLE 1. This Society shall be called "THE HAWAIIAN MISSION CHILDREN'S SOCIETY."

ART. 2. The design of this Society is to cherish and promote union amongst its members, to cultivate in them an active missionary spirit, to stir them up to good works, and more especially to assist in the support of Christian Missions.

ART. 3. The officers of the Society shall be a President, Vice-President, Recording Secretary, a Home and a Foreign Corresponding Secretary, and Treasurer, all of whom shall be elected by ballot at the Annual Meeting of the Society, to hold office for one year. All members of the Society are eligible to any of these offices.

ART. 4. No one is eligible to fill the office of President for two consecutive years.

ART. 5. At each Annual Meeting of the Society, two members shall be chosen by ballot, who, together with the officers mentioned in Article 3, and such members as may be chosen by the Auxiliary Societies in accordance with Article 9, shall constitute a Board of Managers, and who shall hold office for one year.

ART. 6. Any descendant of those who are, or have been members of the American Protestant Mission to these Islands, and the descendants of all those admitted into the Society in accordance with Article 7, are entitled to join the Society by paying into the Treasury the sum of one dollar annually, which shall constitute one an Annual Member, or paying at any one time the sum of ten dollars, which shall constitute one a Life Member.

ART. 7. Any person not included in the 6th Article, may be permitted to join the Society upon the same terms with those who are, by the consent of the Board of Managers, approved by a two-thirds vote of the members present at any regular meeting of the Society.

ART. 8. Any number of Life Members, resident elsewhere than in Honolulu, pledging not less than $25 annually to the Treasury of this Society, may form an "Auxiliary" (to consist of Annual and Life Members of the Society) by the appointment of such officers, and the making of such regulations as they may wish ; provided, however, all be done in conformity with Article 2d of the Constitution.

ART. 9. Any Auxiliary-Society, pledging not less than $100 per annum, shall be entitled to elect annually one member of the Board of Managers of the Parent Society, to hold office one year from its Annual Meeting.

ART. 10. Any person may be admitted as an Honorary Member of this Society by consent of a majority of the Board of Managers, by a two-thirds vote of the members present at any regular meeting of the Society.

ART. 11. Any member may appeal from any action of the Board of Managers, to the Society, at any regular meeting. If the appeal is seconded, such action may be reversed by a majority vote of the members present.

ART. 12. The Society shall hold a regular meeting on such a Saturday evening of each month as it may approve, and an Annual Meeting in May or June.

ART. 13. Each member shall receive a certificate of membership in the following form, to be signed by the President and countersigned by the Treasurer:

Charity suffereth long and is kind; is not easily provoked, and thinketh no evil.—Cor. xiii: 4, 5.

Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brothers to dwell together in unity.—Ps. cxxiii: 1.

One generation passeth away and another cometh but the earth abideth forever.—Eccl. ii: 4.

This may Certify that Having paid the sum of Dollars into the Treasury, is a Member of the HAWAIIAN MISSION CHILDREN'S SOCIETY.

HONOLULU, 18...

[Signed,] President.

..... Treasurer.

Go ye into all the world and preach the Gospel to every creature.—MARK xvi: 15.

ART. 14. Alterations in, or additions to, this Constitution may be made at the Annual Meeting, by a vote of three-fourths of the members present, such alterations or additions having been handed in, in writing, at the previous meeting of the Board of Managers or any member of the Society.

BY-LAWS.

ARTICLE I.—OF THE OFFICERS.

SECTION 1. The President shall preside over the meetings of the Society; deliver an address before the Society at its Annual Meeting, upon vacating his office; appoint all committees not otherwise provided for; sign all certificates of membership; arrange the programme of exercises for each regular meeting, consulting with the Chairman of the various Committees, and he may convene the Society to Special Meetings at his discretion. He shall also be ex-officio President of the Board of Managers.

SEC. 2. The Vice-President shall audit the Annual Report of the Treasurer, and perform all the duties of the President in case of his absence.

SEC. 3. It shall be the duty of the Recording Secretary to keep a record of the proceedings of the Society at its several meetings, and make out an abstract report of the proceedings of the Society, during his term of office, at its Annual Meeting. He shall also be ex-officio Secretary of the Board of Managers, and shall furnish the Treasurer with a certified copy of every order on the Treasurer authorized by the Board.

SEC. 4. The Corresponding Secretaries shall carry on the correspondence of the Society at home and abroad; take charge of the books and papers of the Society, excepting the files of the Maile Wreath, and report at its Annual Meeting.

SEC. 5. The Treasurer shall receive and safely keep all moneys belonging to the Society; pay over such moneys as may be directed from time to time by the Board of Managers, for the purpose of defraying such expenses as shall have been incurred by their order, such order having the signature of the Recording Secretary; shall countersign all certificates of membership; and shall, at the Annual Meeting of the Society, present an accurate statement of the receipts and disbursements of the Society during the year.

ARTICLE II—OF THE BOARD OF MANAGERS.

SECTION 1. It shall be the duty of the Board of Managers to superintend all business transactions of the Society not otherwise provided for in the Constitution, and to keep full and correct minutes of all its own proceedings.

SEC. 2. Any member of the Society desiring to bring any business before the Board of Managers, shall make known such business in a written application to some member of the Board, who shall lay it before the Board for their action thereon.

SEC. 3. The Board shall decide upon all applications for membership under Articles 7 and 10 of the Constitution, and also upon the disposition of the funds of the Society.

SEC. 4. The minutes of the Board shall be read before the Society at each regular meeting, for acceptance and adoption.

SEC. 5. Any vacancies occurring in the Board of Managers, by death or otherwise, shall be re-filled by regular election of the Society at the earliest succeeding meeting.

SEC. 6. The regular meetings of the Board shall be held at such time as the Board may determine, within seven days immediately preceding the regular meeting of the Society. The Secretary of the Board shall note the members present at each.

SEC. 7. Special meetings of the Board may be called by the President at his discretion, or by three members thereof.

SEC. 8. A majority of the members resident in Honolulu shall constitute a working quorum of the Board.

ARTICLE III.

The members of the Society are expected to attend the regular meetings of the Society, as far as may be possible; to perform all such duties as may, from time to time, be assigned to them; to collect all information that may be useful or interesting to the Society, and at each regular meeting contribute to the funds of the Society, according to their generosity and means.

ARTICLE IV.

The regular monthly meetings of the Society shall be opened by prayer and singing; the minutes of the last meeting shall be read by the Recording Secretary; the minutes of the Board of Managers shall then be read and acted upon; a collection shall be taken up by the Treasurer; the entertainment provided for in Article 5 shall then be in order; next shall follow miscellaneous business; after which the meeting shall be closed by singing.

The monthly meetings of the Society shall be open to such guests as any of the members may invite as being in sympathy with the Society and its objects.

ARTICLE V.

There shall be a Committee of three on music, who shall be chosen quarterly, to aid in providing for the profitable entertainment of each monthly meeting.

There shall be a Committee of four, consisting of two ladies and two gentlemen, to be elected every four months, to conduct a monthly paper, the purpose of which shall be to develop more fully the intellectual resources of the Society, and add to the missionary interest of each monthly meeting.

There shall be a Committee of two, to be appointed annually, whose duty it shall be to take the Male Wreaths, after they are read, and attend to their circulation over the Islands, and subsequently to binding them in proper form, and be responsible for their safe keeping.

ARTICLE VI—RULES OF ORDER.

SECTION 1. In miscellaneous business, no one shall speak more than five minutes at a time without permission from the Society.

SEC. 2. In all other points of order, the presiding officer shall be guided by the rules laid down in Cushing's Manual.

ARTICLE VII.

These By-Laws may be altered or annulled by a vote of two-thirds of the members present at any regular meeting, notice of each amendment having been given at the meeting next preceding.

NOTICE.

The PERMANENT FUND of the Hawaiian Mission Children's Society amounts, at the present time, to $1,550 20, which, with the interest now due but unpaid, would bring the Fund up to about $1,775. Probably in a year from this time the interest from this Fund will be available for the uses of our Society.

HONORARY MEMBERS.

NOT OF THE HAWAIIAN MISSION.

[The officers of the H. M. C. S. who have the responsibility of preparing this list of names and addresses, particularly request all the members to assist by promptly informing the Secretaries of any change of residence or address; and if any errors are perceived in the printed report for the year, to send notice of the same.]
